书面表达参考范文：

Dear Mr. Smith,

I am Li Hua, a high school student. I am writing to draw your attention to the improper behavior among students in the reading rooms of the school library: making too much noise and littering. As you know, it is difficult for readers to focus while some students are talking to each other or making phone calls. Besides, a noisy and dirty environment is not only bad for our health but also has a negative effect on our studying.

Therefore, in my opinion, some measures should be taken to solve these problems. First, put up some signs that forbid such improper behavior. Second, ask all the students to pick up their rubbish when they leave.

Thank you for your consideration.

Yours sincerely,
Li Hua

【听力材料】

Text 1

M: Excuse me, but it's a bit hot here. Is it OK if I open the window?

W: Fine with me. I feel a little hot too.

Text 2

W: Do you feel like going on a picnic with me today?

M: I don't think so. If I hadn't gone on a picnic yesterday, I'd be glad to accompany you.

Text 3

W: Dad, I want to be a nurse when I grow up.

M: A nurse? Your aunt has been a nurse for 20 years and she loves it. When grandma wasn't feeling well, she knew how to take care of her.

Text 4

W: Dario, do you think listening to music can help with study?

M: Yeah. Music helps reduce stress and I study better if I'm relaxed.

W: But Sherry said that it would keep us from focusing on studying.

Text 5

M: Hi, Jennifer. I haven't seen you for months. I was busy with job-hunting. It was really tiring.

W: How is it going now?

M: I finally got hired by a foreign company.

Text 6

W: Strong Computers. May I help you?

M: Yes, Ms Strong didn't send any information about your company.

W: Oh, I'm very sorry. Would you like me to fax that to you?

M: Yes, please fax it around 5:00.

W: Sure. Could I have your name and telephone number, please?

M: Okay. Jack Kordell and the telephone number is 560-1288.

W: Is your name spelled C-o-r-d-e-l?

M: No. It's Kordell with a "K" and two "L"s.

W: All right. Bye.

Text 7

M: Lily, who's the fellow you were with at the movie theater last night?

W: Oh, he's Sam. He's my English teacher. He's learning Chinese from me and the film was the lesson for him.

M: Where's he from?

W: Sam's home is in a small town near Boston. He's taught English at my college for two years.

M: Does he also love Chinese girls? Is he married? What do you think of him? Can he help you go to America for your graduate work?

W: Hey, don't ask so many questions. I don't know what you're talking about.

Text 8

W: Hello! It's Melanie speaking.

M: Hi, Melanie. It's Tim here. I'm really, really sorry about lunch today.

W: I waited for a whole hour!

M: I was really busy at work and one o'clock went past without me even noticing it! I am truly sorry. I should have remembered.

W: I'm really busy at the moment too. You really could have called a bit earlier.

M: You're right. I'm sorry.

W: Well, it's all right. Forget it.

M: No, I can't forget it. Why don't we have lunch on Wednesday? I promise I'll be there!

W: I don't know.

M: Come on, one o'clock! I'll be there.

W: Well, OK... Oh, sorry. I just remembered I have a hair appointment at that time!

M: Oh, don't worry. Maybe we can meet at the same time on Thursday.

W: Ah, yeah, that should be OK! Sorry, you'll have to excuse me, I have to cook dinner.

M: No problem. I'm really sorry for today.

W: Don't worry. It's OK. See you Tim!

Text 9

W: Mr. Smith, I'm Xiao Fen.

M: Nice to meet you.

W: Mr. Huang is busy this morning, so he asked me to pick you up instead. He was sorry he couldn't come to the station.

M: It doesn't matter, but I want to know the plan for today. I must return to Beijing tomorrow.

W: Mr. Huang told me that he's got you a sleeping car ticket for train No. 10 from Shanghai to Beijing. Oh, by the way, do you need a room to have a rest?

M: No, I slept well in the sleeping car. Could you find a place for me to wash? I want to change my shirt.

W: OK, our car is outside. Let's go to the hotel. Mr. Huang said he'll show you around the school himself in the morning, and we'll have lunch at 12:30.

M: What will we do next?

W: In the afternoon, the leaders of our institute will ask for some advice about the management of the school.

Text 10

M: My wife and I go to the theatre whenever we can. But before we buy tickets, we like to know if the play is good or bad. Last week, a new play opened at the theatre. The newspaper said it was very interesting so we decide to go on Saturday night.

My wife took a long time to make up her mind what to wear and we left our house a little late. By the time we got to the theatre, the first act had already begun. We were sorry we missed part of the play, because the rest of it was very funny. The newspaper had been right. It was very good.

After the play was over, we met some old friends we hadn't seen for a long time. They wanted to go to nightclub. It had been many years since my wife and I went dancing, but I finally agreed. By the time we got home, it was about two o'clock in the morning. I'm not used to staying out so late and I was extremely tired.
